What is the MAP Program?

The Department of Community Services, Aging & Senior Programs Division, is proud to serve as the lead agency for the Maryland Access Point (MAP) of Charles County. The MAP program is designed to operate as a “no wrong door” method of serving older adults, adults with disabilities, and caregivers through a single point of entry for information and referral to resources and services, options counseling regarding benefits and long term care planning, services for caregivers of older adults and adults with disabilities.

Maryland Access Point
Charles County

Persons seeking services will receive navigation assistance from a single point of entry to avoid going from agency to agency for information. MAP staff will provide initial eligibility screening and application assistance with applications such as energy assistance, food stamps, homeowners and renters property tax credits, and help with Medicare or Medicaid programs. MAP staff can also provide initial eligibility screening and options counseling to determine the programs available to meet individual needs.
